

The Great Beyond

Music and Lyrics by Carole and Ron Ciancioso

VERSE 1

It's time for you to face your god
Time is up for breakin rules
For both the evens and the odds
Come embrace your dejavu
No one knows exactly where we land
When you hear the mand upstairs give his command
Be ready to come back around someday
Be ready when he comes your way
So close your eyes and you'll be gone
To a place to carry on
The great beyond
The great beyond
Prepare yourself to meet your fate
When you arrive at heaven's gate
Time to renite with those
Some were friends and some were foes
Now your life has come to pass
Joyful angels sing and dance
Any pain that you've endured
Will be replaced by love so pure
So close your eyes and you' be gone
To the place you'll carry on
The great beyond
The great beyond
Time moves on but no one knows just how long
Till we hear the angels song
So close your eyes and you'll be gone
To the place you' carry on
The great beyond
The great beyond
